WITHOUT EDUCATION HE LIVES WITHIN THE NARROW, DARK AND GRIMY WALLS OF IGNORANCE. ... EDUCATION, ON THE OTHER HAND, MEANS EMANCIPATION. IT MEANS LIGHT AND LIBERTY. IT MEANS THE UPLIFTING OF THE SOUL OF MAN INTO THE GLORIOUS LIGHT OF TRUTH, THE LIGHT ONLY BY WHICH MEN CAN BE MADE FREE. TO DENY EDUCATION TO ANY PEOPLE IS ONE OF THE GREATEST CRIMES AGAINST HUMAN NATURE. IT IS TO DENY THEM THE MEANS OF FREEDOM AND THE RIGHTFUL PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS AND TO DEFEAT THE VERY END OF THEIR BEING.

-FREDERICK DOUGLASS
BLESSINGS OF LIBERTY AND EDUCATION. SPEECH. 1894.

Introduction

Access to high-quality education is a fundamental value provided to Florida's students through the Florida Constitution. It is in the best interest of all Floridians to give our children an education that fully prepares them for success. Florida leaders have a duty to ensure students are prepared to be civically engaged and knowledgeable citizens who positively impact our communities.

Pursuant to section \(s.\) 1003.42, Florida Statutes, teaching social studies in Florida public schools includes the following:

- The history and content of the Declaration of Independence, including national sovereignty, natural law, self-evident truth, equality of all persons, limited government, popular sovereignty, and inalienable rights of life, liberty, and property, and how they form the philosophical foundation of our government.
- The history, meaning, significance, and effect of the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and amendments thereto, with emphasis on each of the 10 amendments that make up the Bill of Rights and how the Constitution provides the structure of our government.
- The arguments in support of adopting our republican form of government, as they are embodied in the most important of the Federalist Papers.
- Flag education, including proper flag display and salute.
- The elements of civil government, including the primary functions of and interrelationships between the Federal Government, the state, and its counties, municipalities, school districts, and special districts.
- The history of the United States, including the period of discovery, early colonies, the War for Independence, the Civil War, the expansion of the United States to its present boundaries, the world wars, and the civil rights movement to the present. American history shall be viewed as factual, not as constructed, shall be viewed as knowable, teachable, and testable, and shall be defined as the creation of a new nation based largely on the universal principles stated in the Declaration of Independence.

- The history of the Holocaust (1933-1945), the systematic, planned annihilation of European Jews and other groups by Nazi Germany, a watershed event in the history of humanity, to be taught in a manner that leads to an investigation of human behavior, an understanding of the ramifications of prejudice, racism, and stereotyping, and an examination of what it means to be a responsible and respectful person, for the purposes of encouraging tolerance of diversity in a pluralistic society and for nurturing and protecting democratic values and institutions, including the policy, definition, and historical and current examples of anti-Semitism, as described in s. 1000.05(8), and the prevention of anti-Semitism. Each school district must annually certify and provide evidence to the department, in a manner prescribed by the department, that the requirements of this paragraph are met. The department shall prepare and offer standards and curriculum for the instruction required by this paragraph and may seek input from the Commissioner of Education's Task Force on Holocaust Education or from any state or nationally recognized Holocaust educational organizations. The department may contract with any state or nationally recognized Holocaust educational organizations to develop training for instructional personnel and grade-appropriate classroom resources to support the developed curriculum. The second week in November shall be designated as "Holocaust Education Week" in this state in recognition that November is the anniversary of Kristallnacht, widely recognized as a precipitating event that led to the Holocaust.
- The history of African Americans, including the history of African peoples before the political conflicts that led to the development of slavery, the passage to America, the enslavement experience, abolition, and the history and contributions of Americans of the African diaspora to society. Students shall develop an understanding of the ramifications of prejudice, racism, and stereotyping on individual freedoms, and examine what it means to be a responsible and respectful person, for the purpose of encouraging tolerance of diversity in a pluralistic society and for nurturing and protecting democratic values and institutions. Instruction shall include the roles and contributions of individuals from all walks of life and their endeavors to learn and thrive throughout history as artists, scientists, educators, businesspeople, influential thinkers, members of the faith community, and political and governmental leaders and the courageous steps they took to fulfill the promise of democracy and unite the nation. Instructional materials shall include the vital contributions of African Americans to build and strengthen American society and celebrate the inspirational stories of African Americans who prospered, even in the most difficult circumstances. Instructional personnel may facilitate discussions and use curricula to address, in an age-appropriate manner, how the individual freedoms of persons have been infringed by slavery, racial oppression, racial segregation, and racial discrimination, as well as topics relating to the enactment and enforcement of laws resulting in racial oppression, racial segregation, and racial discrimination and how recognition of these freedoms has overturned these unjust laws. However, classroom instruction and curriculum may not be used to indoctrinate or persuade students to a particular point of view inconsistent with the principles enumerated in subsection (3) or the state academic standards. Each school district must annually certify and provide evidence to the department, in a manner prescribed by the department, that the requirements of this paragraph are met. The department shall prepare and offer standards and curriculum for the instruction required by this paragraph and may seek input from the Commissioner of Education's African American History Task Force or from any state or nationally recognized African-American educational organizations. The department may contract with any state or nationally recognized African-American educational organizations to develop training for instructional personnel and grade-appropriate classroom resources to support the developed curriculum.

- The history of Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders, including the history of Japanese internment camps and the incarceration of Japanese-Americans during World War II; the immigration, citizenship, civil rights, identity, and culture of Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders; and the contributions of Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders to American society. Instructional materials shall include the contributions of Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders to American society.
- The history of the state.
- Instructional personnel may facilitate discussions and use curricula to address, in an age-appropriate manner, how the freedoms of persons have been infringed by sexism, slavery, racial oppression, racial segregation, and racial discrimination, including topics relating to the enactment and enforcement of laws resulting in sexism, racial oppression, racial segregation, and racial discrimination, including how recognition of these freedoms have overturned these unjust laws. However, classroom instruction and curriculum may not be used to indoctrinate or persuade students to a particular point of view inconsistent with the principles of this subsection or state academic standards.

The Four Priorities of Florida's Civics Education

1. Students study primary source documents to understand the philosophical underpinnings of the American Republic and the root cause of American exceptionalism.
2. Students compare the success of the United States and the success or failure of other nations' governing philosophies to evaluate their past, present and likely future effects.
3. Students have a sense of civic pride and participate regularly in all levels of government.
4. Students reflect upon United States civic history, so they understand their rights and responsibilities as citizens, including the process of advocating properly with government officials.

The Six Essential Elements of Geography

1. The World in Spatial Terms – using maps and other geographic representations to understand the Earth, using mental maps to organize information in a spatial context and subsequently analyzing that spatial organization of people, places and environments.
2. Places and Regions – understanding the physical and human characteristics of places, how those features help one interpret Earth's complexity and examining the role of culture and experience on people's perception of places and regions.
3. Physical Systems – understanding of the scientific processes that shape the patterns of Earth's surface, including landforms and the characteristics and spatial distribution of ecosystems.
4. Human Systems – understanding how the characteristics, distribution and migration of human populations on Earth's surface affect settlement, interdependence and cooperation or conflict.
5. Environment and Society – understanding how human actions modify the physical environment, how the environment affects human systems and the changes that occur related to the meaning, use, distribution and importance of resources.
6. The Uses of Geography – applying geography to interpret the past, present and plan for the future.

Florida's Academic Standards for Social Studies Coding Scheme

Florida has a unique coding scheme defined by 5-character places in an alphanumeric coding: the subject, grade level, strand, standard and benchmark. For kindergarten through grade 8, the coding scheme is defined by each individual grade level. For grades 9-12, the scheme is banded and organized by strands. The strand is a focal group of related standards. Standards are overarching criteria for the grade level or grade band. The benchmark is a specific expectation for the grade level or grade band that falls within the standard. The social studies content within the benchmarks is to be learned during the year and mastered by the end of the year.

K-8 Example

Subject	Grade Level	Strand	Standard	Benchmark
SS.	2.	A.	2.	3
Social Studies	Grade 2	American History	Historical Knowledge	Describe the impact of immigrants on Native Americans.

9-12 Example

Subject	Grade Level	Strand	Standard	Benchmark
SS.	912.	W.	2.	4
Social Studies	Grades 9-12	World History	Recognize significant events, figures and contributions of medieval civilizations.	Identify key figures associated with the Byzantine Empire.

Understanding the expectation of instruction – whenever there is a list of specific items included within a benchmark, educators need to understand the difference between a list preceded by e.g. and one that begins with i.e.

- e.g. means that these are suggestions of people, places or concepts that can be included in instruction. It may help to think of this as a “for example” list.
- i.e. refers to people, places or concepts that must, at a minimum, be included in instruction. It may help to think of this as “all-inclusive” or “include all.”

Progression of Florida's Academic Standards for Social Studies

The table below illustrates how the different strands of Florida's state academic standards fit within the broader category of Social Studies education. For each strand in kindergarten through grade 12, the shaded areas indicate the grade levels where it is addressed. Strands with similar social studies content are shaded with a different variation of the same color. Most of the strands span multiple grade levels, which lends itself to a deeper understanding.

Social Studies 6-8

Overview of Grades 6-8

In Florida, the responsibility of operating, controlling and supervising the public schools lies with local administrators and members of the district school boards. This is referred to as “local control” and places decision-making in the hands of those closest to the student. Neither the Legislature nor the Department of Education mandate when certain subjects are taught in the middle grades, only that they are taught before advancing to high school. Such is the case with the following two strands – African American history and Holocaust education. And while some districts may choose to teach American History before Civics and wait to teach World History in eighth grade, others will follow the general guidelines outlined by the following grade-specific standards. For legislative statutory requirements, please review the link above in the general introduction to this document.

African American History – understand the causes, courses and consequences of the slave trade in colonial America; analyze events that involved or affected Africans from the founding through Reconstruction (generally taught in 8th grade, or whenever American History is taught).

Holocaust Education – examine details of the Holocaust as an example of extreme antisemitism; describe the basic beliefs of Judaism and trace the origins and history of the Jews in Europe; examine specific case studies and personal stories to better understand the Jews’ plight and foster a sense of empathy (grades 6, 7 and 8).

Social Studies Grades 9-12

9-12 Course Overview

Unlike the primary and intermediate grades, Florida's high school academic standards are grade-banded rather than being written to a specific grade level.

The purpose of this is to allow for flexible scheduling as a student progresses through grades 9-12. According to s. 1003.4282\(3\)\(d\), F.S., in order to graduate with a standard diploma, a high school student must earn a total of three social studies credits to include the following: one credit in United States History; one credit in World History; one-half credit in economics; and one-half credit in United States Government, which must include a comparative discussion of political ideologies, such as communism and totalitarianism, that conflict with the principles of freedom and democracy essential to the founding principles of the United States.

Assessments: The United States History end-of-course assessment constitutes 30 percent of the student's final course grade. Beginning with the 2021-2022 school year, students taking the United States Government course are required to take the assessment of civic literacy identified by the State Board of Education pursuant to s. 1007.25\(5\), F.S., Students earning a passing score on the assessment are exempt from the postsecondary civic literacy assessment required by s. 1007.25\(5\), F.S.
