

The scatterplot below shows the relationship between elevation and temperature.

1. Draw a line on the scatterplot that fits the data.

2. Assess how well the line you drew fits this data.

I think the line fits well because there is enough room with the dots and it's directly in the middle